Thursday,
6th April 1824.

With respect to the Repertory formed to the Inquisitions in the Rolls Office, the question of the printing of the same having been discussed; and it having been stated, that one half of the First Volume had been printed, and that the expense to be incurred was not likely to exceed the sum of 300*l.*, The Board considered the completion of it desirable, from the perishable state of the original Records, and the loss of time and difficulty required in deciphering them; and Ordered, That the accumulation of further Materials for the Calendar of the Memoranda Rolls should also be suspended, as it appeared that a sufficient quantity of matter had been collected for printing, when same should be deemed advisable; which Materials the Secretary was instructed carefully to preserve among the other Documents of the Board: And at the same time, The Board also Ordered, That the formation of the Repertory to the Exchequer Decrees should be continued jointly by Messrs. Conroy and Mayne; that the Repertory to the Decrees of Chancery should be completed to Hilary 1823; and, that no further Proceedings should be taken under the head of "Schedules and Inventories in the Common Pleas Office;" as the Chief Justice had promised to communicate with the Secretary on the subject.

The Secretary then stated, that the Order for the Supplemental Volume of the Statutes had been communicated to Mr. Ball, previously to the Meeting of the Committee on the subject; when he proposed to lay before them a Specimen of the intended Volume, after which, The Board resumed the consideration of the printing of the Materials collected for the First Volume of the Statutes, which, with the several Orders, Reports, and Proceedings, had been adjourned from the 15th of March last, as all the Chief Judges were likely to be present on that day; and in consequence of the communication made by the Chief Secretary on the subject of Expense, at the last Meeting, The Board were of opinion, That the printing of this Work should, for the present, be suspended, and that all the Materials prepared for it should be carefully arranged and preserved by the Secretary.

The Board then instructed the Secretary to inform the Committee, that due care should be taken, in executing the Orders of The Board, to keep the expenses of the Commission within the Sum estimated for the current Year; and that, in every case where it was practicable, the attention of the Sub-Commissioners should be confined to one individual Work under the Commission.

AND lastly, We beg leave most humbly to state to Your Majesty, That, at the present time, We have not any other Matters to offer to Your Majesty's consideration, touching or concerning the premises, or any further Measures to propose thereon.

All which is most respectfully submitted to Your Majesty's consideration.

AND that, at a Meeting of the said Commissioners, at the house of the Right Honourable the Lord High Chancellor, on Thursday the 17th day of June last, being an Adjournment of the Meeting on Wednesday the 29th of March preceding, the Secretary stated that, agreeably to the Board's Order, Mr. Bell was proceeding on the Volume of Corrigenda to the Statutes, and appeared to have extracted the Various Readings, &c. contained in the first Nine Volumes of the printed Edition.

Thursday,
17th June 1825.

The Secretary then stated, the Committee had still to regret, that Provision had not been made in the yearly Estimates for completing that part of the Buildings at the King's Inns, which is intended for the Accommodation of the Auditor General's Books, at present deposited in the Dome of the Four Courts; as the further accumulation and great weight of these Books and Documents, independently of their being placed in a situation most unfavourable to their preservation and reference, have created some apprehensions with regard to the safety of the Building; Whereupon The Board Ordered, That a Communication should be made, in the name of the Board, to the Chief Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, requesting his attention to this subject. And, with respect to the insulation of the Four Courts, the Secretary stated that no communication had been received by him from the Standing Committee, to whom the subject had been referred by the Benchers of the King's Inns: Whereupon The Board Ordered, That it be recommended to the Benchers of the King's Inns, that a joint representation should be made to the Government, respecting the necessity of insulating the Four Courts, and of securing it against the hazard of Fire; and for that purpose, that our Secretary should open a Communication with the Treasurer of the King's Inns Society.

It was then stated by the Secretary, That the fair Transcripts of the Will and Administration Indexes, contained in Nine Volumes, together with one Volume of the Index of the Cause Papers, had been transmitted to the Deputy Registrar of the Court of Prerogative, pursuant to Order; as the original Drafts of these Indexes had been returned to the Record Tower, for the Purpose of being preserved there, among the other Documents of the Board, under their general Order.

The Draft of the Annual Report to His Majesty for the last year, together with an Appendix, containing Abstracts and References to the principal Records and Public Documents connected with the Act of Settlement, &c. was then laid on the Table, when it was Ordered, That some be forthwith prepared for signing and transmitting to the Chief Secretary in London, as hereafter.

AND that, at a Meeting of the said Commissioners, at the house of the Right Honourable the Lord High Chancellor, on this day, the Secretary stated, That the further progress on the Volume of Corrigenda to the Statutes, which had been brought down to the end of the Ninth Volume of the printed Edition, had been interrupted by the lamented death of Mr. William Bell, who had been engaged, under the Board's Order, in extracting the Various Readings, &c. from the corrected Edition prepared by the Senior Sub-Commissioners. And it appearing, that this particular duty could be completed by the Secretary, with the aid of Mr. Lawson, who had been engaged in preparing the authentic Edition of the Statutes; The Board thereupon Ordered, That the aforesaid Volume be continued accordingly.

The Nineteenth and Twentieth Half-yearly Reports of the Committee of Observation, made to the Board, and dated the 9th August 1824, and the 7th March 1825, respectively, having been read; The Board Ordered, in reference to the completion of the Building of the King's Inns, That the Secretary should ascertain whether any and what steps had been taken for that purpose ; and also, for the removal of the late Auditor General's Books and Papers from the Dome of the Four Courts to that Building ; and whether a Provision could not at the same time be made for the better security of the Records of the Consistory of Dublin.

The Secretary was also directed, at the same time, to inquire, and report to the Board at their next Meeting, whether any and what steps had been taken with respect to the Insulation of the Four Courts, and for securing them against the hazard of Fire.

With respect to the Books and Documents in the possession of the Earl Annesley, the Secretary was Ordered to take an early opportunity of examining these Documents, and reporting thereon to the Board.

AND lastly, We beg leave most humbly to state to Your Majesty, That, at the present time, We have not any other Matters to offer to Your Majesty's consideration, touching or concerning the premises, or any further Measures to propose thereupon.

All which is most respectfully submitted to Your Majesty's consideration.

REPORT of Mr. HARDIMAN, Sub-Commissioner, on SCHEDULES and INVENTORIES,

TO HIS MAJESTY'S COMMISSIONERS ON THE PUBLIC RECORDS OF IRELAND.

HAVING been appointed by an Order of this Honourable Board, dated the 3d day of April 1815, one of your Sub-Commissioners, to proceed, with such Assistants and Clerks as might be considered necessary, and in such manner as might be approved of by the Committee of Observation, and under their immediate direction, to carry the Order of the 31st day of July 1811, respecting Schedules and Inventories, into complete effect; I beg leave to submit to the Board, the following Abstracts of the Grants and Conveyances under the Acts of Settlement and Explanation, and the Act for the sale of the estates and interests forfeited in Ireland in the year 1688; with Indexes to the principal Documents connected with them; and a succinct account of those celebrated Acts, the proceedings taken under their authority, and particularly the various records to which they have given rise; and to which my attention has been chiefly directed from a practical knowledge of their great value and importance, in several points of view, but principally to professional persons in their researches concerning landed property in Ireland.

The Act of Settlement has been termed the legislative Title Deed of Ireland. It has been also described by Sir Aurdley Murray, Speaker of the House of Commons, when it passed, as the "Magnæ Charta Hiberniæ." The cases which led to this important law, are fully detailed in the recital of the memorable transactions, which, for many years anterior to its enactment, distracted and convulsed this Island. It is therefore considered unnecessary, in a general view of this subject, to revert, otherwise than as contained in the accompanying Notes, to any of these transactions antecedent to the restoration of King Charles II. which happily took place on the 8th of May 1660. On the 30th of November in that year, his Majesty published his "Gracious declaration for the settlement of his kingdom of Ireland, and satisfaction of the several interests of Adventurers (a), " Soldiers (b), and other his subjects there (c)," in which he declared, Sect. vi. That all the lands,

Act of Settlement
enacted

Declaration of King
Charles II.

NOTES.

(a) The Adventurers were such as had advanced several sums of money in the month of the Act of 17 Charles I. for the recovery of the said Adventurers, whereby it was amongst other things enacted, that such rights, titles, interests, &c. as the Rebels or Rebels, or any of them had on the 25th of October 1641, when the rebellion broke out, or afterwards should have in any land or other possession, should be forfeited to his Majesty, and should be demand, adjudged, vested, and taken to be in the said land and real possessions of the said King, his heirs and successors, without any office or acquisition thereof to be fatal. And for reducing the Rebels, and discharging their lands amongst such persons as should advance money and become Adventurers in the reduction, Two millions and a half of acres was to be assigned and divided in the following proportion, viz. each adventurer of 2000, was to have 1000 acres in Ulster, of 3000, 1500 acres in Connaught, of 4000, 1000 acres in Munster; and of 5000, 1000 acres in Leinster, according to English measure. And the bogs, woods, leagues, and barren mountains were to be cut into three millions and a half of acres, and so thence into each man's division. And out of those acres there was to be a yearly quit-rent reserved to the Crown, on one penny in Ulster, three halfpennies in Connaught, two pence farthing in Munster, and three pence in Leinster. And by the said Act, a commission was to issue, to survey all the lands of the Rebels that should be forfeited, and to measure 900,000 acres in each province, marking in bogs, mountains, &c. as aforesaid: And these lands were to be divided amongst the Adventurers, by equal lot, by the Commissioners appointed under the great seal, and each adventurer was to be returned into the high court of Chancery. And every Adventurer, by such allotment, was to be in actual possession of his share. And by the Act every person, within three months after allotment, that should have 1000 acres in Leinster, 1,500 in Munster, 2000 in Connaught, or 3000 in Ulster, was to have a power to erect a manor, with a court leet and court bar, and all other privileges belonging to a manor, and with diversities, fugitives, goods, &c. (Murray's Hist. Statutes, Vol. I.)

ADVENTURERS

(b) The soldiers were those who served under Cromwell. In the year 1652, the kingdom being reduced, and the rebellion ended, the English parliament published an address, called an "Petition for the relief of Ireland," in which, declaring it was not their intention to extirpate the whole nation, almost all the Popish in the Kingdom, who were worth 100, were divided into four classes. First, All persons, who before the 10th of November 1643 had converted, voted, or aided the rebellion, warlike, or otherwise, which began in October 1643, and all persons, priests, &c. who had any way assisted, aided, or abetted, and all persons who, since the 10th of October 1643, had done any private act bearing witness for the English, or who, not being thus maintained in arms under the command and pay of the Irish against the English, had done any private maintenance in arms against the parliament of England, should not by their own or their heirs' request, be admitted to their estates, but were to be forfeited to the crown. Secondly, All persons (not being comprehended in any of the former qualifications) who had borne arms in the war of Ireland against the parliament of England, were to be bound during the pleasure of the parliament, and to forfeit two thirds of their estates, and their wives and children to be assigned lands to the value of the other third, whose the parliament should appoint. Thirdly, All persons of the popish religion (not being comprehended in any of the former qualifications) who had resided in the Kingdom, at any time from the 1st of October 1643 to the 1st of March 1653, and had not manifested their constant good affection to the interest of the Commonwealth of England, were to forfeit one third of their estates, and to be assigned lands to the value of the other two thirds, whose the parliament should appoint. Fourthly, All persons who resided in Ireland, within the time aforesaid, and had not been in arms for the parliament, or manifested their good affection to its interest, having an opportunity to do so, were to forfeit one fifth of their estates. (M. p. 105.)

SOLDIERS

By an Ordinance made in the year 1653, for the satisfaction of the Adventurers and Soldiers, the forfeited lands in the counties of Limerick, Tipperary, and Wexford, in the province of Munster, the King's and Queen's Counties, East and West Meath in the province of Leinster, Down, Antrim, and Armagh, in the province of Ulster, together with the county of Londrum, if necessary, except the barony of Athdown, were to be charged with the sales due to the Adventurers and Soldiers, according to the rates before mentioned, and to be tenements, and hereditaments of which all or any of the Adventurers were possessed the 7th day of May 1660, having been allotted or set out to them, or enjoyed by them, as Adventurers, in satisfaction of and for their adventures, shall be confirmed and made good to them, their heirs and assigns for ever. Sec. vi. That all officers and soldiers, their heirs and assigns, who have been and are of the army in Ireland, and to whom lands have been given out in satisfaction of their arrears, for their service in that our kingdom, and have by the general convention of Ireland, or by any other publick act, declared submission and obedience to us according to our declaration of the 5th of April last, dated at Broda, shall enjoy their respective estates conferred on them for their arrears for service in the kingdom of Ireland, according to their respective possessions on the said 7th day of May 1660, in full satisfaction for all such arrears for which lands were set out to them respectively as aforesaid; excepting always out of all such settlements, to the said Adventurers and Soldiers, all estates and estates, where bribery, forgery, perjury, subornation of witnesses used or false measurement set forth and discovered before 30th December 1661; estates of those excepted in the English act of oblivion, church lands, persons endeavouring disturbance and manifesting aversion to the restoration and government, estates, mortgages, &c. decreed by the Courts of Chancery or the Exchequer, and not reversed, although set out to Adventurers, Soldiers and others, who were to be repaired. Sec. vii. That all commissioned officers, their heirs or assigns, who were in regiments, troops, or companies raised in Ireland or transported out of England, and served our Royal father or himself, in the wars of Ireland, at any time before the 5th of June 1660, other than those who have received lands or money, for their pay due unto them since the 5th of June 1660, shall be satisfied their respective personal arrears out of the forfeited lands, tenements and hereditaments, undisposed of to Adventurers or Soldiers in the counties of Wicklow, Longford, Leitrim and Donnegall, Cavanagh and Clare, lying within one mile of the river Shannon (or of the sea), commonly called the Mill-line, houses and tenements situate in walled towns and corporations, and lands thereto belonging, not already set out to the Adventurers and Soldiers, satisfaction being first made to such Protestants, who, on divided between them by heretofore, mutually, by act; and for the satisfaction of the arrears of the forces there, who should be immediately disbanded, several other properties of forfeited lands were set out, particularly the forfeited lands beginning at the end of one statute mile round the town of Sligo, and in passing upon the coast, one above four miles distant from the sea, which was called the Mill-line.

Provision to the Ordnance, Commissioners were appointed for putting it into execution, and for taking a survey of the forfeited lands, and for appointing a court for receiving and hearing claims; and by the instructions given to the Commissioners, the second and third clauses of the Irish laws mentioned, who forfeited one third or two thirds of their estates, were to be transported into the province of Connaught and the county of Clare, for the purposes to be directed to them, except the one law, which law was intended to cut off the communication of the Irish with the sea, as the Shannon was to cut them off from the rest of the kingdom.

Provision to those soldiers and instructors, Commissioners of delinquency set at Athlone, to determine the qualifications of Papists, and upon their decrees, other commissioners, who sat at Loughrea, set out the commissioners. Many of the Papist lands were seized and sequestered, and the surveys were not made, actually being, and being thus seized and sequestered, on account of the rebellion, the Act of Settlement vested them in the Crown. (M. p. 103.)

1660. (5) This clause comprehends—1. The Protestant Officers who had served in His Majesty's army and under his authority, from the beginning of the war in 1649, thence called the Forty-year Officers. They claimed arrears to amount of 1,500,000 sterling; and on account of their loyalty, some of these arrears had been paid, when Cromwell assigned lands to satisfy the rest of the army. 2. Protestants whose estates had been given to Adventurers or Soldiers. 3. Innocent Papists, who had been dispossessed, although they had not sold their estates, and obtained possession of lands in Connaught or Clare, in lieu of their former estates, the Irish, who had submitted and adhered constantly to the peace, and who had served faithfully under his Majesty's arms abroad, thence called Englishmen.

With a view to a closer understanding of the Acts of Settlement and Explanation, the Treaty between Charles II. and the Irish may be necessary. About 12th September 1662, a session of arms was agreed upon, previous to which, the King directed the following commission to the Marquis of Ormond, dated August 31st, 1662.—“WHEREAS by Our letters, dated 23d April and 2d May last, We have authorized you the said Marquis of Ormond to treat and conclude with Our subjects in this Our kingdom, who have taken some oath to Us and Our authority, for a cessation of arms for one whole year: Now know ye, that We, opposing special trust in your fidelity, wisdom and circumspection, do with the advice of Our Lords Justices, and according to the tenor of Our letters, dated at Our Court at Oxford, 31st July last past, hereby authorize you to treat and conclude for Us and in Our name, with Our said subjects, upon a cessation of arms for one whole year, to begin at such time as to you shall be thought fit, and upon such articles or agreements as to you in your wisdom shall seem necessary for Our service, or otherwise to benefit of us by them whose experience and knowledge of the constitution and affairs of this kingdom enable them to judge, as well of matters of circumstance as substance, and for the due and agreement and conclusion thereof shall be made by peace made or proposed and proposed for Acts of Parliament, which may be passed and debated by Our Council, and shall be transmitted from thence to Us here. Know ye, therefore, that We, reserving special trust and confidence in your gravity, wisdom, fidelity, and circumspection, of which you have given Us great and constant testimony and satisfaction, do authorize, empower and appoint you by these presents, to be Our Commissioners, to treat concerning the settling and establishing a firm and perfect peace within this Our kingdom, &c. And if you find it not reasonable to consent to such propositions as shall be made for a full peace, then to conclude of our further cessation of arms, in such manner as you shall think most behoofful for Our service, and the good of this Our kingdom.” (Journal, 10, 26 Ch. L. f. n. 12.)

On 30th July 1662, articles of peace were agreed upon between his Majesty and the Irish, previous to which, his Majesty issued his commission, dated then Buckingham, 24th June 1662, to the Marquis of Ormond, to the following effect.—“WHEREAS since the cessation of arms agreed and concluded on within this Our kingdom, the agents employed from thence have presented unto Us several propositions, in order to a firm and perfect peace, which We are obliged to desire, if the same may be had with Our honor, and the safety of Our Protestant and other good subjects within this kingdom, and because many of the propositions proposed by them cannot be so well weighed, considered and judged of as by those whose experience and knowledge of the constitution and affairs of this kingdom enable them to judge, as well of matters of circumstance as substance, and for the due and agreement and conclusion thereof shall be made by peace made or proposed and proposed for Acts of Parliament, which may be passed and debated by Our Council, and shall be transmitted from thence to Us here. Know ye, therefore, that We, reserving special trust and confidence in your gravity, wisdom, fidelity, and circumspection, of which you have given Us great and constant testimony and satisfaction, do authorize, empower and appoint you by these presents, to be Our Commissioners, to treat concerning the settling and establishing a firm and perfect peace within this Our kingdom, &c. And if you find it not reasonable to consent to such propositions as shall be made for a full peace, then to conclude of our further cessation of arms, in such manner as you shall think most behoofful for Our service, and the good of this Our kingdom.” (Journal, 10, 26 Ch. L. f. n. 12.)

Afterwards, on the 15th January 1663, peace was finally concluded, several who had submitted to the King had given their arms, and upon the general transportation were allotted three properties, according to the settlement of Ireland, in the province of Connaught and Clare. Others, who attended King Charles II. in his exile, yielded his restoration for a restoration of their estates. (Journal, 102.)

leases or contracts for leases, had built or repaired houses, or planted orchards or gardens, with some exceptions. Sect. x. That all commissioned officers before 1649, who have had no satisfaction in lands or otherwise, set out to them for services since 1649, shall be immediately, out of the whole security that is above assigned for the satisfaction of arrears before 1649, satisfied 12s. 6d. in the pound of what is due to them. Sect. xi. That such Protestants, whose estates have been given out for satisfaction for Adventurers or Soldiers, or otherwise disposed of to any other persons, shall be forthwith restored to their former estates, and a septimal of equal value, worth and purchase forthwith assigned to such Adventurers or Soldiers, as shall be removed out of their said estates. Sect. xvi. And whereas we understand, that by the late usurped powers, during the disempower of those times, many have been dispossessed of their estates, merely for being Papists, and have such out decrees, and are possessed of lands in the province of Connaught and county of Clare, in compensation of their former estates, which being an act of their own, we might without any injustice may to relieve them in, yet so willing are we that any interest intrusting itself to equitable mercy might not be disappointed, we declare all innocent Papists, being such as shall prove themselves to have been faithful and loyal unto and never acted against our Royal father or ourselves, since the 24th October 1641, though they have sued out decrees, and are possessed of lands in the province of Connaught or county of Clare, in lieu of their former estates, by the 2d May 1651, provided that the said lands in Connaught and county of Clare be restored to the said Papists to be reple to others, &c. Sect. xxiv. And as to those who continued with us, and served faithfully under our ensignes beyond the seas, we think fit and accordingly declare, that they shall be restored to their former estates, if said decrees for compensation not obtained. Sect. xxv. Several noblemen and gentlemen, who have for reasons known unto us, in an especial manner merited our grace and favour, without being put to any further proof, shall be restored to their former estates. Sect. xxxi. We esteem it necessary to declare, that it is our first intention forthwith to call a Parliament in that our kingdom, and effectually recommended unto our Chief Governor or Governors, Privy Council and our said Parliament, the establishing by laws there all the particulars mentioned in this our declaration, and such others as shall be found necessary for the good of our people there. Sect. xxxii. And because we are too credibly assured, that in the decrees and judgments given for forfeited lands in the province of Connaught and county of Clare, much injustice and fraud hath been used, we shall recommend the whole review of that business to our Chief Governor or Governors for the time being, and our Privy Council and Commissioners, or some of them, to the end that whatever irregularity may by their care and wisdom be rectified, and the just part thereof confirmed: as also, that a suitable Act for Ireland, for confirming judicial proceedings there in the Four Courts, may be there past; and another Act for rectifying all decrees and judgments in the Court of Chancery and Exchequer of Dublin, and the claims of our Protestant subjects of Ireland, that so all our subjects being legally sealed and confirmed in their lives, properties, and estates, they may without fear for the future betake themselves to mend the ruines and desolations of so long and bloody war, and live in comfort and unity.—The foregoing Extracts will be found to comprise the heads of the most important clauses of the King's Royal Declaration, which it was intended should form the basis of the intended proceedings for the settlement of the nation. (d)

The Commissioners appointed (s) for putting the declaration into execution set at Dublin, and published Proclamations requiring all adventurers, &c. within forty days to bring in the particulars of their estates, and

(Patent enrolled, 15 Car. II. 5 p. d. v. 10.)

Commissioners appointed for putting the declaration into execution

It being found inconvenient to the King's service, that the names of all his estates issued in the law should be inserted as commissions in the commission of chancery, and for setting the several interests of the Kingdom of Ireland, these being warts of course to issue by right and title on several occasions for chancery, his Majesty, by letter from Whitehall, 11th March 1660, directed, that the names of the Attorney and Solicitor General should be left out and corrupted out of the Commission of Chancery, to the end they might attend his service the more immediately, and not be hindered from attending out his right and interest, by being judges of the cause. (Enrolled, 15 Car. II. 5 p. d. v. 11.)

Sub-Commissioners
appointed.

On 26th May 1661, Edward Lanyon, Christopher Essex, Robert Woods, Waltham Stables, Robert Peck, Thomas Elliott, and Arthur Frith, were appointed sub-commissioners to the commissioners for putting in execution the King's Declaration for the settlement of Ireland, for the more orderly and effectual execution thereof, according to the instructions to the commission annexed. (Enrolled, 15 Car. II. 5 p. d. v. 11.) On 14th September following, further sub-commissioners were appointed. (Pat. enrolled, 15 Car. II. 5 p. d. v. 11.)

Registrars to the Commissioners.—Thomas Kennedy gent., upon his petition, and pursuant to letters from Whitehall, 24th Decr 1660, was appointed General Registrar, principal and chief clerk to the Trustees for the adjudication of the qualifications and claims, and all other interests expressed and issued by the King's declaration, of the 5thth of November 1660, for the settlement of Ireland, February 26th, 1660.—(*Enrolled, 15 Car. all persons to enter their claims before the first of May 1661. Very little however was done by them, for want of a law to warrant their proceedings. The Judges declared their opinion, that the declaration, being only an act of state, was not a warrantable rule to follow in the disposing of men's estates. Very few or none of the Irish entered their claims.

Memories

According to His Majesty's declaration for the settlement of Ireland, for the better execution, registering, and transcribing of all and singular the matters and things relating unto or concerned in the said declaration, and instructions thereupon, and also the register or list of all the lands, writings, records, or papers, containing or relating unto the same, during good behaviour, with such fees and advantages as should be established and allowed him by the Lord Justice of the Kingdom, having received a former grant of the said office, made or pretended to be made to Thomas Kinsely gent, during pleasure, Westminster, 20th March 1655.—(Resolved, 13 Car. II. 2 p. 6. 5.) His Majesty's declaration, William Fitzgibbon gent, appointed sole commissioner to the said commissioners as trustees, for the settlement of qualifications and claims, during behaviour, with such salaries, fees, &c. as the trustees should allow in that behalf, February 25th, 1660. (Resolved, 15 Car. II. 2 p. 6. 4.) He was again appointed, by letters from Whitehall, 29th April, and by patent, 12th August 1662. (Resolved, 14 Car. II. 2 p. 6. 3.)

Register, Chief Clerk, and Commissioners.

Register, Chief Clerk, and Commissioners.—The King paying a register that it fit and able persons should be appointed to execute the office of register, chief clerk, and commissioner to the said commissioners, so that to attend those to take affidavits and make entries of record, transmit and receive of such returns and things as should be ordered and directed by them; and for that his Majesty had already had experience of, and reported great want and inconvenience in the good execution, diligence, and capacity of Sir John Perreval of Dublin, bart, his executors, and cause the said office of General Register, Chief Clerk, and Commissioner to the said commissioners, and appointed for John to that office during behaviour, with such fees as the L.L. should appoint, with directions for an instrument to be granted under the great seal, containing a suspension or discharge of Sir James Shaw knight from the execution of the place of register to the commissioners for putting in execution his Majesty's declaration and instructions. P. Resol, at Whitehall Court, 7th June, Patent, 1st August 1662. (14. 4 p. 6. 11.) The register was directed to receive, every year, five, and pay into the L.L. or other chief governor for the time being, one full third part of the clear profits of his office (the necessary charges to be expended) and about the same time thereof being first deducted, the same to be received out and paid from time to time, as the King should appoint. His Majesty by letters from Whitehall, dated 20th January 1662 (13th p. 6. 4. 5), and by patent, dated 7th June 1662, gave to Sir Peter Harvey knight, Alexander Bower and Robert Reading esquires, and to the survivors and survivors of them, one full third part, share, or proportion, of all sums of money, profits, benefits, and advantages of the said office or place, to be accounted for and paid as aforesaid, and a power to the L.L. to call the register to account from time to time as aforesaid, for the said office. (Resolved, 17, 18, 19 Car. II. 2 p. 6. 12.)

Commission to collect
Money, &c.

In order to collect all money applicable to the uses expressed in his declaration, the King, by letters dated 6th February 1660, appointed, that Roger Earl of Down, and John Vanocan Musgrave, should receive all sums of money, as by his declaration of the 30th of November 1659, for the settlement of Ireland, were to be paid to the uses in said declaration expressed, and that he proceed in execution of the said employment as by the said declaration and instructions were directed, and that the money so to be received by them should be paid to the T. Treasurer, and by him aimed as should be presented, and for their pains in collecting, receiving, and paying over the same, and discharging the salaries of the several officers and other necessary charges relating thereto, they should be allowed for in every 10th, they should receive and pay. In pursuance of which directions a commission issued to three 10th March following, but in the Act of Settlement his Majesty's expressions concerning the appointing such as he designed to receive the money payable by his said declaration, and the said Act, being such as he should particularly appoint to collect and receive the same, his Majesty, for removing all doubts and scruples, commanded their lordships to receive and collect the same, whereas they were to proceed according to the directions of the said declaration, instructions, and Act, during their respective lives. P. Seal at Hampton Court, 10th June, Patent of Commission, 1st October 1662. (Resolved, 16 Car. II. 2 p. 6. 13.)

Commission to receive value of lands not yet settled by Advances and Solders.

Commission for ascertaining the Value of the Lands not yet settled by Advances and Soldiers, by Arthur Earl of Anglesey, John Vincent Musgrave, Sir James Ware Bart, Andrew Gaillard, John Lynch esquire, Sir John Perreval bart, Sir George Lane bart, and Sir Audley Mervin bart. — WHEREAS the two half parts rest from the Advances and purchasers of lands from dispossessed persons, in the province of Connaught and county of Clare, and their assigns, and the half years rest from the Soldiers, payable by Our Order according to Our Declaration, is a certain payment, so very applicable to the affairs and interests of that Our Kingdom, in practicable expedients for discovering the several estates of Advances and Soldiers there, and such purchases, as so to prevent the frauds which may be attempted by concealing the real values of the said estates, which, if truly discovered, will bring in a considerable sum of money to Us. Our will and pleasure is, that you cause a commission to pass to empower the aforesaid persons to enter full and sufficient enquiry into the full yearly value of the lands that are or shall be set out for the respective Advances and Soldiers, or deliverances of the said Advances and Soldiers, that upon discovering the same, We may receive the several half years value mentioned to be contained or bestowed upon Us, as in said Declaration is expressed, whereas also they are to pursue such further directions and instructions, as they have or shall find from time to time receive from Us, or the Chief Governor for the time being, Whitehall, 5th January 1661.—(14th p. 6. 1.) The Commission passed 22d March following. (Act 6. 35.) The said persons were again appointed to the same purpose (patent to letters from Whitehall, 20th December 1662) (Act 6. 35, and the first of that month, P. Resol, by commission, dated 12th January 1663.—(15th p. 6. 35)) viz, to make full and exact enquiry into the full yearly value as well of the lands that were or should be set out for the respective Advances and Soldiers, or their deliverances, and purchasers of the lands of dispossessed persons, as to grant by letters patent, as the same were made in 1660, pursuant to a clause in the Act of Settlement, with power to nominate and appoint sub-commissioners in the several counties of Ireland, and to make a due return of their proceedings, proposed under their hands and seals and also sealed, with all necessary speed, that upon discovery of the same, and of their full value, declaration, or returns thereupon unto the Exchequer, amounting the same payable, which by a reasonable construction of the said Act might be intended should proceed and go before the receiving the penalty for non-payment, his Majesty might receive the several half years value mentioned to be bestowed upon by said Acts.

Trustees for the 1640
Obligations.

Commissioners or Trustees for the 1640 Obligations.—Henry Vincent Moore, Arthur Vincent Valencia, John Vincent Musgrave, Francis Lord Anger, John Lord Kingston, Richard Lord Colmore, Sir James Ware, Sir Theophilus Jones, Colonel Arthur Hill, Colonel Michael Trevor, Captain Robert Fitzgerald, Sir Robert Newcomen, Sir Andrew Foster, Sir Richard Lane, Sir Patrick Wherry, Sir George Lane, Sir John Sweeney, Sir Audley Mervin, Sir William Flower, Colonel C. Cobb, Colonel Francis Fowler, Sergeant Major Thomas Harrow, Sergeant Major George Rowden, Captain Hans Hamilton, Captain Robert Ward, Captain Richard Gething, Erskine James esquire, Dr. William Tracy, Richard Sturton esquire, James Calk esquire, Samuel Richman esquire, and Alderman Daniel Balfour, say five or more of these.— WHEREAS by his Majesty's gracious Declaration of the 30th of November last, it is provided, that all dispossessed offices, their heirs or assigns, who were in possession, troops, and companies raised in Ireland, or transported out of England, and served his Majesty Charles I. of blessed memory, or his Majesty that now is, in the war in Ireland, at any time before 29th day of June 1603, other than such who have received lands for their pay due unto them since the 25th of June 1603, shall be satisfied their respective personal arrears out of the particular following, viz. out of the forfeited lands, tenements, and deliverances in the counties of Wicklow, Longford, Leitrim, and Down, out of all the forfeited lands, tenements, and deliverances undeposited in the province of Connaught and county of Clare, lying within one mile of the river Shannon or of the sea, commonly called Msh-yea, out of all the houses and tenements forfeited in Ireland, in the several walled towns and corporations, and

lands,

Measures were accordingly taken to convene a Parliament for the purpose of removing those objections, and to carry the King's declaration into legal execution. Parliament accordingly met in Dublin on the 8th day of May 1661, and after considerable discussion, the celebrated Act in question was passed, whereby it was amongst other things, enacted: Sect. 1. That all houses, manors, messuages, houses, places, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, &c. in all and every the counties, baronies, cities, towns corporate, and walled towns in this kingdom, forfeited from 29th October 1641, and vested and settled in the real and actual possession and seisin of His Majesty, his heirs and successors, without office or inquisition, notwithstanding their former proprietors not attainted, all which (except as therein excepted and provided) were to be and remain in his Majesty, his heirs and successors, to the intent to be settled, confirmed, restored, and disposed, to and for such use and uses, and in such manner as is and by the said declaration, and instructions thereafter following, and by the Act, and the true intent and meaning thereof is declared, limited, meant, or appointed. Sect. 78, et seq. The declaration and instructions were enacted and confirmed with additions. The King to appoint Commissioners for executing the Act, whose proceedings should be effected. Several enlargements of the time limited for making the claims. Sect. 102. All lands of ecclesiastical persons, in 1641, restored. Sect. 107. Impropriations or appropriated tithes forfeited given to the church for ever, and settled on the incumbents. Sect. 109. Reasonable recompense out of the impropriations allotted to those to whom they would have been restored, if no such exemption to the church made. Sect. 132. All letters patent since 30th November 1600 ratified and confirmed, subject to the survey of rights and interests. Reserving however a power of revocation to the King, his heirs or successors. Sect. 160. The interests of innocent persons saved, notwithstanding the disposition and settlement of several lands and tenements to particular persons. Sect. 177. Manors, lands, tenements, &c. restored to hospitals, almshouses, and charitable uses. Sect. 184. For the better prevention of all future rebellions, and so on the said, that the subjects of Ireland might be likewise secured against all insurrections or attempts for the time to come, and the kingless be the better planted and improved, the Governors and Council, during seven years, may make rules for better planting, with Protestants, the lands not restored: And also, Sect. 185. For the better regulation of cities, walled towns, and corporations. Sect. 186. Lands in the province of Ulster, not to be set out in satisfaction of advances, but wholly reserved for reprisals. Sect. 204. This Act not to extend to the disposal of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, whereof the Provost, Fellows, and Scholars of the holy and undivided Trinity, near Dublin, of the foundation of Queen Elizabeth, were seized in fee, in 1561, to whom all forfeited leases thereof are granted and confirmed. Sect. 219. The Governor and Council given full power and authority to erect another college, to be of the University of Dublin, to be called by the name of the King's College, and to raise yearly £2,000 for the endowment thereof, same to be regulated by statute of the King's appointment. Such were the leading enactments of the Act of Settlement. An Act in defence and reprobation of which some hundreds of volumes have been since written; but, under which, with subsequent explanations and additions, the landed property of Ireland has been disposed of and settled, and continues, in great part, to be enjoyed to this day (f).

lands themselves belonging, not clearly set out to the Advancers and Holders in satisfaction of debentures and arrears (qualifications being first made to such Protestants who on loans or advances of lands here before or reported heretofore, or planted orchards or gardens, except the houses, tenements, and hereditaments in the town of Wexford, clearly set out to Sir John Noel and John Arthur, and also in some possessions), out of the benefits arising from the redemption of mortgages, judgments, notes, where lands are not already disposed of to Advancers or Holders (excepting always heretofore such mortgages, judgments, notes, or any forfeiting person in Ireland his or his of the estate of one, James Burgess of Ormsland, Lord Burgess of His Majesty's household, or the Lady Macclesfield his wife) and the said securities or by the said Declaration committed to the hands of such persons, for the use as the said Declaration mentioned, as to the Duke of Albemarle and Marquis of Ormsland shall appear to be best and best for the best advantage, and to the ends in the said Declaration expressed. In possession hereof the duke and marquis appointed the persons to be the persons intended by virtue of the said Declaration, and to see to do every act and thing intended in their own by the said Declaration, and to see and see to the said Declaration, and to the ends in the said Declaration expressed, and where they shall give or information of the information necessary for such persons to be employed in the said service, as shall assign the most out of the profits of the said securities, according to the power so given by the said Declaration. In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals, the 24 day of March 1660, in the 13th year of his Majesty's reign. Ormsland, Albemarle. (Enrolled, 15 Dec. 11, 2 p. 4 n. 10.)

The foregoing commission was received 29th May 1660, to invent of the same Commissioners and others—(Enrolled, 14 Dec. 11, 6 p. 4 n. 1.) The Duke and Marquis of Ormsland being empowered to assign fit and convenient persons for such persons as should be employed in the said services, and having received sufficient satisfaction of the abilities, judgment, and integrity of Randolph Clayton, to discharge the office of Register or chief clerk to the said Commissioners, in the expediting of their said commission, and such other things as depend thereupon, requested him to be their chief clerk or register, to execute the same by himself, or deputy or deputies, with such salary, and all other fees, perquisites, and advantages, as should also after be held fit to be established and allowed unto him, during the continuance of said commission, March 24, 1660.—(Enrolled, 12 Dec. 11, 2 p. 4 n. 10.) Robert Ward esquire, pursuant to letters from Whitehall, dated 20th January 1661, was appointed to the place of Register General, for keeping all duplicates of debentures, records, certificates, contracts, and other writings, touching soldiers debentures, for the satisfaction of the arrears of the officers and soldiers employed in Ireland, during pleasure. Patent August 1661, 1662. (Enrolled, 26 Dec. 11, 1 p. 4 n. 11.)

(f) Amongst the great collection of archival documents preserved in the Record Tower of His Majesty's castle of Dublin, are five large folio volumes, relating principally to the Acts of Settlement and Explanation, and the various branches connected with them. These volumes, which are considered highly valuable, contain, in general, entries of petitions, reports, orders of council, abstracts of individuals' rights and interests, memorandums, letters patent, claims, letters of the King and privy council, and numerous other documents, during the reign of Charles the Second, which throw considerable light on the civil affairs of Ireland throughout that eventful period of its history. These volumes, which appear to be contemporaneous with the affairs of which they treat, were presented to the Commissioners of Records by the Lord Maryborough, when Chief Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant in 1618; they have been since carefully preserved, among their other books and documents in the custody of the Secretary, in the Record Tower, and have been found useful in investigations concerning descents and titles. In order to ensure the safety of the collection, a capacious repository of the contents of each volume, accompanied with indexes of the names of persons and places, has been formed by one of the Sub-

enquire into any
Act of Settlements
cases.

Immediately after the passing of the Act, Commissioners were appointed to carry it into execution (g); but the Act itself afforded no satisfaction to any of the conflicting parties whom it concerned. The violent calals and contentions which it occasioned in Ireland, embittered the only moments of peace until then enjoyed by the King, and certainly swayed many of his subsequent measures with regard to this Island. The Irish complained, that adventurers, parliamentarians and republics, had been secured in the possession of estates of which the natives had been unjustly deprived, and the forty-nine officers, many of whom were ancient inhabitants of the kingdom, and had lost large possessions, although they had been distinguished for their adherence to the royal cause, complained that several grants and provisions had been obtained from the King, and inserted in the Act, which rendered the payment of their arrears uncertain or insecure. In this state of things, if an Act of Parliament had been before necessary to give legal effect to the King's declaration, further legislative interference was now become more so, to explain, amend, and make various alterations in the Act of Settlement.

Act of Explanation.

A Bill of explanation prepared for the purpose was accordingly transmitted to England in September 1663, which, after many preliminary prosecutions, and much anxious consideration, received the royal assent in 1665. By this Act the several lands and possessions vested in the King by the Act of Settlement are declared to be vested in him, freed and discharged from all estates tail, and from all conveyances made before the 25th October 1641, by any tenant in tail. Persons not theretofore adjudged innocent were for ever barred from any claim. The Adventurers and Soldiers to be confined in two months. No Adventurer, Soldier, Forty-nine officer, or Protestant purchaser in Connaught or Clare, before the 1st September 1663, in possession of lands reasonable, to be removed until he should have as much other forfeited lands set out to him. Directions given when the Adventurer, Soldier, &c. was in possession of more or less than his two-thirds. All defunct adventurers to be satisfied in the same tenure or county. Commissioners to cause books to be made and returned into the Exchequer, and upon a certificate, under the hands and seals of the major part of the Commissioners, the Lord Lieutenant, &c. authorized and required to cause letters patent to be passed without any further letters or warrants from his Majesty. Directions when an estate for life only recovered by an Irish claimant, and where left in the person against whom decree made. Letters patent conferred against the King, discharged of all estates tail, feehold and inheritance, &c. not therein saved. The Protestant officers, serving before 1640, confirmed in lands not already decreed away by the Commissioners. Protestant purchasers from transplanted persons, to hold two thirds, and no person to be repaid above two thirds. All lands vested in the King, or restored by virtue of any decrees, or this or former Act, subject to quit-rents as in the former Act, except those in Ulster, to be thenceforth charged with two-pence the acre. Power given to the Lord Lieutenant and Council to make quit-rents. Decrees of innocency confirmed, with certain exceptions and restrictions, and such decrees passed hæc, not to entitle the claimants to any other lands. Innocent Papists left to the course of law for the recovery of their possessions. In case of doubts or defects arising or appearing in the Act, the Commissioners might, within two years next after their first sitting, acquaint the Lord Lieutenant and Council therewith, and that such order of amendment or explanation as they should make in writing, within said two years, and enrolled in Chancery, should be as effectual as if it were part of the Act. These few brief extracts point out the principal enactments contained in this explanatory Act, which exceeded in length both the King's declaration and the Act of Settlement itself. It was, in general, favourably received by the Adventurers, Soldiers, and Forty-nine officers; but among the native Irish its reception was very different. Commissioners under the great seal issued to Commissioners to carry its provisions into execution (h); and the termination of their labours closed "the settlement of Ireland."

The

Commissioners for enquiring the Act of Settlement.

(g) Henry Coventry esquire; Sir Edward Dering bart., Sir Richard Rowland, Sir Thomas Beverly, Sir Edward Smith bart., Edward Cooke and William Churchill esquires; six others or more of them, were appointed Commissioners for putting into execution the Act of Settlement. By proxy signed, dated at Rougemont Castle, 16th July 1663.—(Ireland, 16 Car. II. 2^o p. 4. c. 3.) Mr. Coventry being a groom of the King's bed chamber, his Majesty could not so far dispense with his service to his person, as to permit him any longer to attend the execution of the said commission, which he revived by letters from Whitehall, 12th, and by patent, 20th May 1663; and he sat in place appointed for Allen Swadwick bart.—(Ireland, 16 Car. II. 2^o p. 4. c. 3.)

Commissioners to enquire whereof Estates
restored or repaid.

On 7th October 1663, Col. John Jennings, John Lala, Richard Worle, Samuel Debaron, John Pying, Thomas Wilson, Thomas Ketton, and James Debaron, gentlemen, were appointed Commissioners for enquiring after the values of the estates of persons restored or repaid, or so to be by the Act of Settlement, and to make returns thereof to the Commissioners for putting the said Act into execution.—(Ireland, 16 Car. II. 4^o p. 2. c. 23.)

Commissioners to enquire into any
Act of Settlements
and Clauses.

On 26th October 1663, a commission issued to review and verify the decrees for Lands in Connaught and Clare, directed to Arthur Earl of Anglesey, James Lord Straugh, Chief Justice of the King's Bench, John Hyde esquire, Chief Baron of the Exchequer, Thomas Piggot esq., M. W.; Sir James Ware, Auditor General; Sir Robert Faith bart., Henry Coventry esq., Sir Edward Dering bart., Sir Richard Rowland bart., Sir Thomas Beverly bart., Sir Edward Smith bart., Col. Edward Cooke, and William Churchill esq., six or more of them. The King being too weakly recovered, that in the decrees and judgments given the forfeited lands in the province of Connaught and county of Clare, despite long terms of sequestration, much against and against had been used in the obtaining and procuring of the same. And whereas by his declaration for the settlement of Ireland, and the Act passed in consequence thereof, his Majesty had published and declared, that he would recommend the whole issue in the Chief Government, Privy Council, and Commissioners for putting the said Act into execution, or some of them, to the end that what irregularity should be found in those proceedings, might by their care and wisdom be rectified, and the just part thereof satisfied. His Majesty therefore directed a commission to the persons above named, empowering them to enquire and review themselves how the said decrees and judgments had been obtained, and what irregularity, fraud, or irregularity had been used in obtaining or procuring the said decrees, and whether they were given according to the rules that were then prescribed for obtaining of the same, and to do all other matters and things whatsoever, that might lead to the better discovery of the premises, and to should next cause with the advantage of the King's arrears.—(Ireland, 16 Car. II. 5^o p. 4. c. 18.)

Commissioners to put into execution the Act of Settlements and Explanation.

(h) On 1st January 1665, Sir Edward Smith bart., Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas; Sir Edward Dering bart., Sir Allen Dredrick bart., Sir William Churchill bart.; and Edward Cooke esq., were appointed Commissioners for putting into execution

The Commissioners appointed for the purpose immediately proceeded under the Act, and pronounced several decrees and adjudications, on which, by writs from the Lord Lieutenant, letters patent were passed under the great seal. The contents of these patents, together with those previously passed under the former Act, will be found in the first part of this Appendix. In the course of these proceedings certain doubts having arisen, the Commissioners proposed the same, as empowered by the Act, to the Lord Lieutenant and Council, who, by an order, bearing date the 9th of April 1805, and issued in the court of Chancery, ordered and declared, first, that all estates, &c., which on the 23d October 1693, or at any time since, belonged to any

Whereas the said Commissioners went necessarily to great expence and charge attending this service, his Majesty was graciously pleased, for their better encouragement in the said service directed to them, to appoint, that the sum of £2000 the week for their common table or diet, and the sum of £10, the week, severally for their lodgings, (which had been allowed to the former Commissioners for executing the said Act of Settlement,) be allowed and paid unto them, or to whom they should appear, (being £30 5s. the week) by the Vice-Treasurer, by convenient monthly payments, to begin the 20th day of October last, being the first day of that session of this Parliament, in which the said explanatory Act was passed, and to continue during their commission in the said employment. Whitehall, 2 July 1695. (Resolved, 15 Car. II. c. 9, s. 26.)

Commission to inquire into the real value of Popish lands granted to Protestants. James Lord Seavoy, Chief Justice of the King's Bench, John Spore Esq., Chief Justice of the Court of Exchequer, Sir John Temple kn., Master of the Rolls, the Lord Darys kn., S. C., Sir William Bourne kn., Attorney General, Sir John Temple kn., Richard General, any four or more of these appointed Commissioners to inquire, find out, and fully inform themselves by writs in each county, examination of witnesses, and all other lawful ways and means, what were the true yearly value of all the lands aforesaid, which were returned by the God Sherry to belong to any Irish Popish, Popish Recusant, or Roman Catholics, according to the value the said lands were let in the year 1690; and of all other lands wherein any adventure or soldier, his heirs, executors, or assigns, had any claim, or interest by virtue of the Acts of Settlement, and to return their proceedings into the Court of Chancery. They that at Whitehall, 21st November 1695. (Resolved, 15 Car. II. c. 9, s. 27.) and patent 27 January 1696. (Resolved, 15 Car. II. c. 9, s. 28.) Their commission was renewed upon the passing of the Explanatory Act, and they were authorized to do and execute all other acts and things for the better knowing, viewing, and measuring of the yearly value of the said lands, and for the due and orderly collection and payment thereof, as by the said Act was directed, limited, and appointed, and to make return of their proceedings with all accounts spent upon the Exchequer, January 17th, 1696. (Resolved, 17, 18, 19 Car. II. c. 9, s. 29.)

Commission to inquire into the value of Popish lands granted to Protestants

Commission, dated at Westminster 28 December 1695, to inquire into the value of the lands of the (1695) officers, and to make abatement of the quit rents imposed thereby by the Acts of Settlement, directed to the Commissioners for executing the Acts of Settlement and Exemption. Whereas by the Acts of Exemption, a power was given by the Chief Justice and Council, at any time during the space of three years next after passing the said Act, to make such abatement and modulation of quit-rents payable by the said Act, as they in their judgment should think fit, which has it now elapsed, without such relief given as may be necessary, by reason whereof the officers who served the King in Ireland, before 3 June 1693, their heirs and assigns, part of whose commission it is to be by land lying in the counties of Wicklow, Longford, Leitrim, and Down, and whose heirs and assigns their certificates, unperfected their patents, are likely to be greatly burthened, if the whole quit-rent due and payable for their lands should be rigorously insisted from them; and divers great quantities of other lands yet undivided of, and still remaining in the state of荒地, are of small yearly value, but charged with so great quit-rents, according to the strict rules of the said Act, that divers of our good subjects there, would rather choose to wait their requests, than accept of lands charged with a quit-rent, if not exceeding at least one-fourth of the full value of the lands, or very near the full value, whereby great quantities of land are like to be waste, and all plantations and improvements thereupon to be much discouraged, unless We be graciously pleased to provide for the ease and relief of our good subjects in these cases. Whereas, being desired that all the persons aforesaid might, upon due examination of all circumstances requisite to be considered, receive such abatement and modulation of the said quit-rents, as might be most agreeable to justice and equity, and appearing very great thank in the care and fidelity of Sir Edward Smith, and the other Commissioners for executing the Acts of Settlement, recommended them to inquire into and examine the value of all the lands aforesaid, and still remaining in the state of荒地, and of all other lands in the aforesaid counties, to which the said (1695) officers and soldiers were any ways entitled, and wherein no certificate and patents had been hitherto granted, and to cause such abatement and modulation to be made of the said quit-rents, as they should think fit, according to the tenor of rules and instructions. (Resolved, 28 Dec. 1695. 15 Car. II. c. 9, s. 30.)

Commission to inquire into the value of lands of (1695) Officers, &c.

Commissioners or Trustees for the (1695) officers. Commission, dated at Whitehall, Oct. 26, 1695, directed to Henry Younes Moore, and others. Upon a letter address made to the Duke of Ormond, from the Trustees appointed to manage the security of the (1695) officers, desiring that he would revive the commission granted to them by George I. his Duke of Albemarle and his, his Grace, considering their long commission from setting upon the execution of their said commission, &c., for his better advice and direction, concerning the matter to the committee for the officers of Ireland, when they set by his Majesty's order to consider the whole state of the said security, and the said Committee having, for their better information thereof, referred the enquiry touching the validity of the said former commission to the Attorney General, and although by his report there appeared not any defect therein, yet the Duke, for avoiding of all dispute, being desirous that the King would make an absolute declaration from himself, and by his royal authority fully and completely the proceedings of the said Trustees, in the future prosecution of their trust, his Majesty revived the said commission, and appointed the aforesaid Commissioners to be the persons interested, according to the tenor and purport of his Majesty's declaration of the 20th of November 1695, and Richard Barry gent. to be their register or chief clerk.

Trustees for (1695) Officers.

Patent to letters from Whitehall, dated 16th February 1695, Denny Muschamp, Thomas Beckridge, Richard Barry, William Jollyon, and William Innes, requires, were appointed Commissioners to compound with any persons or persons of any part of the (1695) security not yet discovered, and the benefit of the discount set yet allowed to any person by the Trustees appointed for the management of the said security, and to agree with them for the same either due thereout unto the King, and for eight and six pence by the Acts of Settlement to be granted unto them, at such rates, and for such sums of money, to be paid by them for the use of the (1695) officers, as to them or any three of them should be thought fit. Patent, March 27, 1695. (Resolved, 20 Car. II. c. 9, s. 31.) George Beagles Esq. was afterwards appointed Commissioner to the use of Richard Barry deceased.

Commission to compound with persons of any part of (1695) security.

On the 24 July 1691, Col. Guy Dillon, Captain Richard Cross, Major Robert Sellsoply, Captain Thomas Flower, Denny Muschamp, and William Ellis, were appointed Commissioners as Trustees for the security of the (1695) officers. (Resolved, 25 Car. II. c. 9, s. 32.)

Trustees for (1695) Officers.

Abatement of quit-rents. Patent to letters from Whitehall, dated 10 December 1675, Arthur Earl of Essex, Lord Lieutenant, Michael Archbishop of Dublin, Lord Chancellor, Richard Earl of Arundel, Sir Robert Beeth kn., Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, and Sir Charles Hervey kn., appointed Commissioners for the abatement of quit-rents, by patent, dated 20th June 1676. (Resolved, 20 Car. II. c. 9, s. 33.) The King is his letters directed, that the Lord Lieutenant, and each one of the Privy Council as he should command, should be commissioned to inquire into and examine the value of all and singular such lands, tenements, and hereditaments, which they should find or judge not to be of sufficient value to satisfy the quit-rents, by the Acts of Settlement and Exemption, and the arrears of quit-rents and other public charges due for the same, as the quit-rents should be near equal to the yearly value of such lands, and upon due information and knowledge had of the value thereof, to cause such abatements and modulations to be made (by orders in writing) of the said quit-rents and arrears, as they in their judgments and consciences should think fit.

any Irish Papist, or which had been returned by the civil survey, or Down survey, as belonging to any Irish Papist, and which at any time after the 23d of October 1691, were seized or sequestered, or vested in his Majesty, upon account of the rebellion, (excepting such estates as had been decreed to innocents, and belonged to them on the 22d of October 1691, and excepting such lands as had been restored to the former proprietors, by some clause in either of those Acts, and excepting any lands for which some judgment or decree was had by a Protestation, in the late court or pretended Court of Claims, or in any of the four courts, before the 22d day of August 1693,) should at all times thereafter, in the four courts sitting in Dublin, and in all courts of justice, and in all trials, actions, and suits, both in law and equity, as well between his Majesty and any of his subjects, as between party and party, without any further proof, be always construed to have been seized, sequestered, and, from the 23d October aforesaid, forfeited to his Majesty, without any inquisition or office found, &c.; and, secondly, that after the Commissioners for executing the said Acts have adjudged any of the said lands so vested or forfeited to his Majesty, to any person or persons, who by said Acts are entitled thereto, and should have granted their certificates accordingly, and letters patent should be thereon passed, the rights, titles, and interests of all persons whatsoever who had not been adjudged innocent, as well such as were Protestants as Papists, should be thereby concluded and barred for ever, other than such rights and titles which should be reserved in the letters patent, and such rights as are the proper act of the party, to whom such letters patent shall be granted, or of those under whom his claims as lessee, executor or administrator, and other than such debts, leases and payments whereunto the same are by the said Acts made liable; and that the said lands, &c. in the said letters patent contained should be by the said Acts confirmed, according to the several estates thereby granted, against the King, and all other persons, bodies political and corporate; and thirdly, that all Adventurers and Soldiers, their heirs and assigns, should have and enjoy an estate of inheritance in fee simple, in such lands as should be certified to belong to them, unless some lesser estate should be therein expressly limited; and that in case such lesser estate should be so limited, the party should be repaid out of other lands, so as to make up his two third parts, by the said Acts intended to him, equal in worth and value to others who should have estates in fee simple certified and granted to them. This order of council, bearing by the Act the force of a law, thereunto put an end to all doubts respecting the titles of the grantees.

Having attempted thus far to detail the principal points of the Acts in question, another record of great national importance, viz. the Down Survey, which though anterior in point of time is so intimately connected with them, yet remains to be noticed; but as this subject has been anticipated by very satisfactory returns to the Board, contained in the First Vol. of their Reports and Proceedings, p. 495, and Second Vol. p. 14, it becomes unnecessary here to do more than merely refer to these Reports and Returns (5). It may however be observed, that in general the advancement of the Down Survey is that contained in the Grants under the Acts of Settlement and Explanation.

Records connected with the Acts of Settlement and Explanation.

1. ROLLS OFFICE.

IN the Rolls office are preserved the Instruments of the several grants of lands, &c. made under the Acts of Settlement and Explanation, comprised in 53 Rolls, all in good preservation. These grants being the consummation of all the proceedings under the Acts, are esteemed the principal Records connected with them, and in such form the greatest, as they certainly are, the most important part of this Appendix. Abstracts from them were made by the late Mr. Lodge; but as these abstracts were apparently compiled by that gentleman individually, rather for purposes of private research, and for his own well deserved amusement, than to meet the eye of the public (6), they required some modification of form, to adapt them to the present purpose. That form which was considered the most judicious has been adopted in the present instance, and will be found to contain every thing material in the original grants. The indexes of persons names, and of the Commissioner to inquire into the state of transplanted persons. His Majesty, by letters from Whitehall, dated 20th Sept. 1694, (Ireland, 2d Cl. II. 4. p. 67-95) directed this commission to be done, directed to Sir Robert South, the Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, Sir Charles Mordaunt bar, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Thomas Randolph Esq; Henry Howe Esq; R. B. and Sir Richard Bopps bar, with authority to them, or any three of them, to hear and determine the claims of all transplanted persons in the said province and county, touching the decrees they had, or the lands set out to them in lieu of such former estates, except only such lands as had been already disposed of by certificate from the said late Commissioners for executing the said Acts, and to state the just rate and value of said lands, and to examine what irregularity had been in the setting out and disposal of the said lands, and to restore the just part thereof, and to inquire of all lands forfeited by the said Acts, in the said province or county, and to dispose of the same towards the satisfaction and repayment of such transplanted interests as remained yet unsatisfied and delivered, and to grant certificates thereof, in order to the passing letters patents thereupon, and to observe such restrictions as the Chief Justice and Jery General should think fit to give them, from time to time, for the better execution of this commission. June 25, 1676. (2d Cl. II. 9. p. 4. & 5. 6.) The instructions are amended, R. 95, and Thomas Mordaunt of Dublin, Esq; was appointed their register during behance.

(5) The Down Survey of the forfeited lands, before the burning of the record office in 1711, consisted of 52 folio volumes, divided into baronies and parished maps. At present, there remain in the office of the Surveyor General, Dublin Castle, about 1,620 maps, of which 920 are of the baronies, and the remaining 1,120 of the parishes. An original volume of the barony maps (12 pages) preserved in the quarter office, Custom House, Dublin, for which see Vol. B. Papers on the Public Records of Ireland, p. 422.

(6) Mr. Lodge concludes his Abstracts with the following note:—"This is a transcription of all of the lands and hereditaments granted by the Acts of Settlement and Explanation, which, I believe, may be depended upon, as I have copied it with the utmost care and exactness; and finished the same (by God's most gracious assistance) the 24 day of September, 1730 24th Geo. II. Extra Don."

several counties and baronies mentioned in the grants, will enable an inquirer to find any name, either of person or place, contained in the originals.

The next and only remaining documents in the Rolls office connected with the above Acts, are the original certificates or decrees of the court of Claims, on which the preceding grants were founded. Each of those instruments contains the original list, signed by the Lord Lieutenant, authorizing the grant to be passed. To these there is a small book of reference, containing an alphabetical List of the names of the persons on whose behalf the certificates or decrees were made. This List is also given in the Appendix, immediately following the abstracts of the grants, as well to identify the existence of the original instruments, as to afford a clue to them in any instance in which it may hereafter appear that a certificate might have passed although not followed up by letters patent.

2. CHIEF REMEMBRANCER'S OFFICE.

IN the office of the Chief Remembrancer of the Exchequer are preserved the following documents connected with the Acts of Settlement and Explanation 1—4. "Inrolments of the Certificates or Decrees of the Court of Claims for Adventurers, Soldiers, &c. (the originals of which, as already mentioned, remain in the Rolls office.)" 2. "Inrolments of Decrees of Innocents." 3. "Inrolments of Comraught Certificates." 4. "Inrolments of adjudications in favor of the (1649) officers, formerly denominated the 49 lots.

With respect to the first, viz. the inrolments of the certificates or decrees of the court of Claims for Adventurers, Soldiers, &c. indexes of the names of all persons and places which they contain, with references to the originals on each roll, are also given, by which means every roll, and the purchases sites or messuages of each, and the persons and places mentioned in these important national documents, may be immediately found, and this facility is the more valuable from this circumstance, that it is apprehended, that of the originals in the Rolls office many have been lost or injured by time or accident, and that of the transcripts preserved in the Auditor General's, or as now termed, in consequence of a recent regulation, the Vice Treasurer's office, (to which I shall immediately have occasion to revert,) may have been burned, so that the indexes here given will prove the only complete references to this class of Records, the particular contents of which have been hitherto almost inaccessible to the public for want of proper references or indexes.

As to the second, third, and fourth classes of Records, before enumerated, now remaining in the office of the Chief Remembrancer, viz. the decrees of Innocents, Comraught certificates and adjudications for the (1649) officers, similar indexes of the names of all persons and places which they contain are also given, with references to the memorandums of each roll. These are the original inrolments, and are evidence of the King's title, which the letters patent from the Crown are supposed not to be. For this reason, and particularly, as no corresponding documents, similar to those of the certificates for Adventurers, Soldiers, &c. are to be found in the Rolls office, and but imperfect transcripts in the Auditor General or Vice Treasurer's, even greater necessity existed for supplying these indexes than the former, and for including them in the Appendix, which will thus be found to contain complete references to the contents of all the principal Records emanating from the Acts of Settlement and Explanation.

3. AUDITOR GENERAL'S or VICE TREASURER'S OFFICE.

HAVING alluded to the Auditor General's or Vice Treasurer's office, it remains to be observed, that in this department there are preserved numerous transcripts (though generally imperfect, some having been destroyed by fire,) of the various records before enumerated. These transcripts were deposited here, from time to time, for the purpose of ascertaining the King's rents, and other dues payable under the several grants and adjudications; and though not original records, they have been frequently resorted to (and even received as evidence in courts of justice) as such, for want of sufficient or satisfactory references in the other repositories where the originals are preserved. The references therefore, and indexes to the originals, contained in this Appendix, supersede the necessity of referring to these transcripts in the Vice Treasurer's office, particularly as they cannot be received in evidence (if objected to) while the originals are extant. The following however is a correct view, as well as I could collect, of the various documents relating to the proceedings under the Acts of Settlement and Explanation contained in this department. I. Forty-three Volumes of Transcripts of Grants of Lands, &c. with an imperfect Index to each Volume, a general Index of the patentees names to the entire, and two Volumes, containing abstracts of the lands granted. To this class of books an additional Index, as to the lands only, has lately been formed, under the order of the Board; but the following abstracts, from the fifty-three rolls of original inrolments of these grants, in the Rolls office, will be found, with the help of the county and baronial Index, to contain all the particulars comprised in these forty-three Volumes, with a general Index. II. Eight Volumes of Transcripts of Certificates and Decrees of the Court of Claims, with a General Index. To these books there is a separate reference on a parchment roll, indented, "An Alphabet to Certificates;" and a further though not sufficiently full Index has been lately formed by order of the Board; but the following General Index to the original Inrolments of these Certificates and Decrees in the Chief Remembrancer's office comprehend every matter contained in these eight Volumes. III. Six Volumes of Transcripts of the Decrees of Innocents, with a General Index, judiciously formed by Mr. Henry Harbidge, Clerk of the Records in this department; and a Roll referring by counties to the six Volumes, but not exactly agreeing with them. There is another book of reference in this office, viz. "An Abstract of each Lands as are decreed to Innocent Patentees, but omitted in the Roll of Innocents," with a reference to the Record where titles are to be found. The annexed Index to the original Instruments of these Decrees of Innocents, preserved in the Chief Remembrancer's office, contains every matter contained in these six Volumes, and their several Indexes. IV. Three Volumes of Connaught Certificates, framed in this department "Transplanters," with an Index to each Volume. An additional Index has been formed to these three Volumes by the Sub-Commissioners on this department, under the order of the Board, but it appears to be partial as to the names of places. Here also it will be found that the full Indexes, contained in the following part of this Appendix, to the original rolls of Connaught certificates, preserved in the Chief Remembrancer's office, enhance the contents of these three Volumes, and their respective references. V. A roll termed, "The Great Rent Roll," containing the quit-rent assessments. These quit-rents are all contained in the following abstracts.

The Vice-Treasurer's office, therefore, does not appear to possess any original Records, which, in addition to those already detailed and preserved in the Rolls and Chief Remembrancer's offices, could appropriately form any part of the Appendix to this Report, or tend to elucidate the proceedings or measures adopted under the Acts of Settlement and Explanation. The following books, however, particularly the first class, are considered valuable, viz. 1. The Civil Survey and Distribution Books; 2. An Abstract of Ecclesiastical and Forfeited Lands decreed in the Court of Claims and Exchequer in 1697 and 1698, with a Reference to the Records; 3. A Volume of Orders of the Court of Claims, 1661; 4. A Volume of Orders of the Court of Grace for defective Titles, 1684; and 6. Inquisitions. These are all documents of great value, and it may be necessary to consult them in any researches requiring more information than can be obtained from the ensuing Appendix.

In addition to the foregoing, there are also the following Records, some of which have a distant, others a more immediate relation to the proceedings under the Acts in question, viz. The Outlawries and Attainders in 1661, as record in the Court of King's Bench, (preserved in an iron chest, the key of which remains with the Lord Chief Justice,) and the Inquisitions on Attainder in the Rolls and Chief Remembrancer's office. As Schedules of these latter documents are contained in the Supplement to the Eighth Annual Report of the Board, and abstracts of their contents are now printing under its order, they are mentioned here only for the purpose of directing attention to them, and that no Record within my knowledge, having any reference to the Acts of Settlement or Explanation, should remain unnoticed.

FORFEITURES IN 1688.

BY an Act passed in the Parliament of England, in the 11th and 12th years of William III. intitled, "An Act for granting an Aid to his Majesty, by Sale of the forfeited and other Estates and Interests in Ireland, and by a Land Tax in England, for the several purposes therein mentioned," it was enacted, That all the honours, manors, lands, possessions and hereditaments within the realm of Ireland, wherof any person or persons who stood convicted or attainted of treason since the 13th day of February 1688, or who should be convicted of treason before the last day of Trinity term 1701, or who stood convicted of treason, by reason of having been found by inquisition to have died, or been slain in actual rebellion, since the said 13th day of February 1688, or who were seized or possessed, or interested in, or entitled to, on the 13th day of February 1688, or at any time since, in their own right or to their own use, or wherof any person or persons was or were seized or possessed, or interested in, to the use of, or in trust for them, or any of them, on that day or at any time since, or wherof the late King James II. or any in trust for him, or to his use, was seized or possessed, or interested in at the time of his accession to the Crown of England, should be forfeited in Francis Annesley, James Hamilton, John Bagge, John Trenchard, James Blane, Henry Langford, James Hooper, Sir Cyril Wyche, John Orey, Sir Henry Sheris, Thomas Harrison, William Fellows, and Thomas Rawlins, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, according to the several estates and interests which the said person, &c. had therein, on the said 13th February, or at any time afterwards, to the end that the same might be sold and disposed of, to and for such uses as are expressed and declared by the said Act; and where any of the said persons were seized of an estate not only in the said honours, manors, &c. the same are thereby enacted to be vested in the said Trustees, and their heirs, in fee simple, to be sold and disposed of as aforesaid, with a saving for persons comprised within the articles of Limerick or Galway.

All grants, devises, surrenders, releases, custodians, &c. or dispositions, since the said 13th of February 1688, made or granted under the Great Seal of England and Ireland, or the Seal of the Exchequer in Ireland, or by Act of Parliament in Ireland, or otherwise, of any of the said forfeited or forfeitable estates or interests, or of the estate of the said late King James, or of any of the quit-rents, crown-rents, composition-rents or chief-rents belonging to the Crown of Ireland, are thereby declared null and void. Power was given to the Trustees to reward discoverers of any such forfeited estates concealed, by giving them such proportion of the value, after sale thereof, as they should think fit. All persons whatsoever, bodies politick and corporate, having any estate, right, title, interest, &c. charge or incumbrance whatsoever, in or to the lands, tenements, &c. vested in the Trustees, before the 13th of February 1688, by reason of any settlement, judgment, &c. affecting the said estates, were thereby directed, on or before the 10th of August 1700, (which time was by 12 and 13 William III. c. 10. Eng. enlarged to the 25th of March 1702,) to enter their claims and demands thereon before the Trustees; or in default thereof, every estate, right, title, interest, &c. in or to the said persons was to be void, and the estates so liable thereto discharged of and from the same. And the Trustees were to hear and determine such claims before the 25th of March 1701. The Trustees to be a Court of Record, and the claims may be certified, and a copy, good evidence. After the expiration of the time for making such claims, the the Trustees were thereby directed, before the 23th of March 1706, (which time was afterwards, by 1 Act, c. 13. Eng. enlarged to the 9th June 1708,) to sell the estates and interests vested in them and not claimed, and the estates and interests claimed, as soon as the claims should be determined; such sale to be made to any persons, bodies politic or corporate, by cost or auction.

Mr. Halkiner's
Report on Solicitors and Attorneys.

On the first of June following, the Trustees commenced their proceedings, and on December 16th, 1699, made a Report to the House, wherein they state, That the persons outlawed in England, since the 13th day of February 1688, on account of the late Rebellion here, amount in number to 75, and in Ireland to 3,291; their additions, and counties in which they were outlawed, appear in a book delivered in with this Report, No. 1. The estates that said persons, or any of them were possessed of or interested in, either in law or equity, since the 18th day of February 1688, that came to our knowledge; together with the proprietors names, the number of acres, the county and barony in which they lie, the value of them per annum, and the total value, appear in a book delivered in with this Report, No. 2. But the gross number of all acres belonging to forfeiting persons in each county, the yearly and total value (assuming a life at 6 years purchase, and an inheritance at 18 years, which we apprehend to be at this time the value of the lands of the kingdom,) appear to be 1,060,792 acres, worth per annum £211,625. 6. 8. value; total £2,585,200. 5. 8. (f) besides the several demarcations in the several counties to which no number of acres can be added, by reason of the imperfection of the surveys. The proportions of these lands restored to the old proprietors, by virtue of the articles of Limerick and Galway, and by his Majesty's favour, contain 688,106 acres of land, amounting, yearly, to £157,768. 6. 6. value; total £724,925. 6. 6. Estates restored to the old proprietors by reversal of outlawries or his Majesty's pardon. The reversals are of two sorts, such as have been in pursuance of adjunctions. (The estates restored by reversals are already comprised under the consideration of persons already adjudged.) The other sort are such as have been reversed by his Majesty's or the late Queen's letters, or orders to the Lord Justices, which, with all pardons, and the considerations inducing the same, passed since the defeat of the Boyne, amounting to 65, appear in a book delivered in, No. 3. The estates restored to the several persons pardoned, or that have their outlawries reversed by his Majesty's favour, contain 74,788 acres, worth per ann. £20,000. 8. 8. value; total £80,865. 7. 8.

Mr. Hardness's
Report on Schedules and Revenue.

To the Right honourable the Earl of Galway, one grant, containing 85,148 acres, in consideration of many good and faithful services by him performed. To the Right honourable the Earl of Rochford, 2 grants, containing 20,871 acres, in consideration of services done. To the Marquis of Ebor, 2 grants, containing 30,512 acres, in consideration of services done. To the Right honourable Lord Coningsby, 5,066 acres, with several churches, tythes, and many houses in the city of Dublin, with £1,000 mortgage, in consideration of services done. To the Right honourable the Lord Montjoy, 11,070 acres, for 21 years, in consideration of his services done in the war of Ireland, the losses he suffered in his estate, the imprisonment of his father in the Bastille, and his being killed in the battle of Sluys. To the honourable Thomas Knightly esq., 2 grants, containing 12,581 acres, for 99 years, as a portion for his daughter Mrs. Catherine Knightly, who was a dependant on her late Majesty Queen Mary of ever blessed memory, and consideration of a pension of £400 per annum, and his losses in the war. To Colonel Gustavus Hamilton, 5,382 acres, whereof 1,000 are no part of the forfeitures, in consideration of his great and early services in the war of Ireland, his sailing through the Shannon, and storming the Tower of Athlone, at the head of the English grenadiers. To Doctor John Leely, 16,077 acres, in consideration of his early services in the war of Ireland, his great expense in raising and arming considerable numbers of men, and fighting at the head of them in several engagements. To Thomas Pendergast esq., now Sir Thomas Pendergast bart., 2 grants, containing 7,092 acres, upon the most valuable consideration of his discovering a most heinous and bloody conspiracy to assassinate the King's most excellent Majesty, to destroy the liberties of England, and in consequence the Protestant religion throughout Europe. To Mr. John Baker, 1,547 acres, in consideration of the great and innumerable services his father, Colonel Henry Baker, performed in the defence of the city of Londonderry. To Thomas Coory esq., 2 grants, one of a mortgage of £2,000 in fee of several lands in the county of Wicklow, due to Sir Edward Scott from the Earl of Tyrone: the other of 1,725 acres. The rest of the grants appear in the book, No. 6, and are comprehended in the general value. All the acres mentioned in this Report are moor plantations acres, which bear a proportion to English as 441 is to 404. The value of the goods and chattels (forfeited) are so uncertain, no estimate made of them. Debts due by judgment and statute, and a few mortgages due to forfeiting persons restored, amount to £140,013. 13. 10. There are yet to be completed 377 houses in the city of Dublin, 85 houses in the city of Cork, with 225 houses situate in the several cities and towns of this kingdom; together with 61 mills, 25 fairs and markets, 78 rectories and tythes, chief rents amounting to £283 per annum; and 6 ferries and fisheries, the forfeitures of persons not restored, value, in gross, £30,000; the woods of the kingdom now standing on the forfeited estates not restored, may be worth £60,000. The Report then notices "the general waste committed on the forfeited woods, particularly on the woods of Sir Valentine Browne, in the county of Kerry, where to the value of £30,000 has been cut down and destroyed; and the waste on the woods of the late Earl of Clancarty's estate, in grant to the Lord Woodstock, is computed at £27,000, and indeed so hasty have several of the grantees, or their agents, been in the disposition of the forfeited woods, that vast numbers of trees have been cut and sold, for not above 6d. a piece (s); the like waste is still continuing in many parts of this kingdom, and particularly on the lands of Feitrim, within 6 miles of Dublin, and the woods of O'Shagnessy, in the county of Galway, purchased by Toby Butler esquire, for about £2,500, which was valued to above £12,000." This Report is signed Frs. Annesly, John Trenchard, J. Hardness, Hen. Langford.

Transfer of Papers.

The Trustees, in 1701, made a second Report of their proceedings to Fulbright (n), and, in the year 1703, completed the weighty and complicated duties which devolved on them under the Act, by an account, as directed, of the estates and interests which had not been previously granted or restored. They immediately after executed deeds of conveyance to the several purchasers. These Transfers are modelled in the Court of Chancery, and full Abstracts from them are comprised in this Appendix (o), which, (including also the abstracts and indexes under the Acts of Settlement and Explanation) will be found to contain the greatest body of useful information, on the important subjects to which it relates, ever given to the world, in many respects resembling, and in some even exceeding in interest, that of the celebrated Domesday book of England.

All which I respectfully submit, this 22d day of March, 1825.

James Hardness.

(s) Here we discover, perhaps, the principal cause of the destruction and decay of the woods of Ireland, which, until this period, were extensive and extensive, but for nearly half a century after, the country was almost totally destitute of green timber. The several Acts of Parliament since passed, particularly during the reign of our late venerable Sovereign, for encouraging the planting of trees, have succeeded to a great degree in remedying this national evil.

(o) The several books of returns referred to in the Trustees Reports are supposed to remain among the Parliamentary papers, London. In the First Vol. of the Reports on the Records of Ireland, pp. 145, and Second Vol. p. 614, will be found, Editions of the deeds, writings, manumissions, securities, records, books, accounts and papers delivered, on the 24 of August 1705, to the Commissioners of the Revenue by the surviving trustees, pursuant to an Act of Parliament made in England, 1 & 2 Ann. intitled, "An Act for restoring the title of the Forfeited Estates in Ireland," &c. They are now preserved in the Custom House, Dublin, where they are not only a very useful appendage, but likewise convenient for the purpose of public and professional reference. It would therefore be desirable (as the account which caused them to be lodged with the Commissioners of the Revenue here long since ceased) that these documents should be transferred to some other more eligible situation or repository. Whatever plan shall be adopted, with respect to the printed books and papers, ought perhaps be usually extended to this department.

(p) By an Act passed 23 Geo. 3. chap. 48, entitled, "An Act for restoring to His Majesty the Excise which finished in 1688 yet remaining unpaid," all houses, messes, lands, &c. which were seized in His Majesty, and remain unpaid and unpaid of, were declared to be vested in His Majesty, his heirs and successors, to his and their own use, discharged from the order, appointment and disposition of the Parliament in Ireland; provided always, that nothing therein contained should extend or be construed to extend to duties or taxes any loss of the said lands, or any part thereof, theretofore lawfully made. TO

A SERIES OF MS. VOLUMES PRESERVED IN THE RECORD
TOWER, DUBLIN CASTLE ;

CONTAINING

Transcripts of State Papers and other Documents

CHIEFLY RELATING TO THE

ACTS OF SETTLEMENT AND EXPLANATION, AND TO THE PROCEEDINGS
UNDER THESE ACTS.

THE Set of Books to which the following Repertory refers, consists of Nine MS. Volumes in folio, inscribed on the covers, " Lib. A, B, C, D, E, F, H, I, M, L," (the Letters G, L and K, being deficient,) but without titles, or any other distinguishing marks to indicate their date, or the nature of their contents. With very few exceptions, and those of a trivial nature, they relate wholly to the Affairs of Ireland, and more particularly to the Proceedings under the Acts of Settlement and Explanation during the reign of Charles II. They were transferred to the custody of the Commissioners of Records in the year 1811, by the Lord Maryborough, then Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant, who, in his letter to the Board on the subject, states that they had been the property of the late Viscount Mountjoy.

From the hand-writing, and other internal evidence, these Volumes appear to have been compiled during the period to which they relate; and an article in one of them, in which the same person who, in the table of contents, is spoken of in the first person, is named Sir Geo. Lane in the corresponding article in the body of the work, affords reason for inferring that they were formed by or under the immediate cognizance of this individual, who was Secretary of State and a Privy Councillor under Charles II., and also Keeper of the Records in Birmingham Tower, Dublin Castle.

Some further light has been thrown on the history of these Volumes, from a Report made to the Commissioners of Records by their Secretary, in the year 1835, relative to a large collection of books and documents, of the period above noticed, in the possession of the Earl Annesley, which had been inspected by him in conjunction with Messrs. Erick and Hardiman, two of the Sub-Commissioners. It appears from the catalogue of the contents of that collection, formed by them and annexed to the Secretary's Report, that there are in it two volumes, marked on the covers " Lib. G." and " Lib. K." consisting of transcripts of official documents and other state papers, of a character precisely similar to those in the possession of the Board of Records, and it is to be observed, that the letters by which they are marked are two of those which are deficient in the set of books now under consideration. These circumstances, together with the nature of the contents, being contemporaneous, if not official, copies of public documents of great interest, must render them highly valuable in inquiries connected with the persons and occurrences of that era.

In order to render these Volumes more extensively useful for the purpose of research, a Third Index is annexed, in addition to those of the Persons and Places mentioned in the Repertory, containing the Names of every person of any note which occur in the original volumes, but which could not with propriety be introduced into the printed work.

Edward Grove,
Sub-Commissioner.

7 June 1661.—Here follow, A certificate in his Majesty's order of council, 15 Jun. 1656, to give Doctor Abraham Yarns in possession of the lands of Clannawagh, Ballymore, Ballydoonin, Ballymore, Condon, Killadagee, Tullymore, Ballymore, Ballymore, Kippure, and 355 a. in Enniscorthy or Ballymore; containing 325 a., and valued at 160*l.* yearly; also a petition to Edward Walsh and his family . . . p. 307

Petition of William Montgomery of Rossmore, Down co., esq., stating that his father, the James Montgomery, was forced to fly from Ireland for his loyalty; among other his wife, losses and sufferings, and paying for a survey of the lands of Florida which he had purchased, but was unable to keep—Here follow, A letter from Montgomery to the Privy Council of England for his influence—A certificate in his favour by the Marquis of Ormonde—draft of a proviso in his favour—a letter from Montgomery to Sir Henry Bennet, 26 April 1654, promising him 400*l.* for his interest, and stating some particulars of his case, in which Patrick Allen of New Bow, gent., and Col. Robert Barrow, are mentioned . . . p. 312.

Petitions of the Forty-nine Officers, praying attention to the following particulars—

- 1 That one acre of the land allotted for the forty-nine officers in Wexford, Longford, Leitrim, and Down, and all within the line not disposed of, which were allotted for satisfaction of their arrears, are to be defiled for making up of regiments, which they think severe; because—1st. These five counties have more available lands than any other six counties, except Kerry, and much unallotted land; three of them are distant from Dublin, and much of the land yields not more than double the quit rent; and the towns of Ireland are now one third worse than when first allotted.—2d. These officers have been great sufferers, being subjected to heavy contributions by the usurped government, and many of them banished from life and estate.—3d. The soldiers and strikers have been in possession of their allotments for several years, while the forty-nine officers have received nothing at all.
- 2 The barracks of Ballymore and Malinbeg were appropriated, by the Act of Settlement, for retaining the arrears of Cork, Yongford, and Kinsale, and the forty-nine officers; but by the new bill they are cast into the mass of regiments, which injures their letter; because—1st. The arrears, by receiving regiments in distant parts, may suffer losses above the value of what they receive.—2d. If regiments fall short, many of the claimants may be wholly unsatisfied for.
- 3 The proviso for securing purchases made by protestants, which is about to be inserted in the clause for securing the arrears of leases in corporations to the forty-nine officers, will render such clause of no effect.
- 4 They pray for a clause for removing doubts as to the proviso in the Act of Settlement, among that the benefits arising from redemption of mortgages is to be assigned to the forty-nine officers.
- 5 They pray for a clause to confirm that which states that one third of the forfeited lands in Dublin should be allotted for their relief.
- 6 That if any of the unappropriated persons now settled on the rule line be removed, their lands be added to those for the forty-nine officers.
- 7 That they be required for the lands returned to the Earl of Tyrconnel.
- 8 That a timely distribution be made of their arrears.
- 9 That the houses and lands in cities or towns corporate, or within their authority, be not put into the hands of papists . . . p. 326.

Answer of the Forty-nine Officers to that part of Sir Nicholas Plunket's observations, which relate to the arrears of leases in corporations, "being the bill now under consideration, explained partly of their necessity," with the draft of a proviso in their favour . . . p. 327.

Petition of Philip Hen, to be restored to his lands in Wicklow.—No date . . . p. 328.

Petition of several Protestants [named] to be permitted to appear again as before.—No date . . . p. 311.

Petition of Sir Bayly Maynard, Sir Francis Gore, and other adventurers, who had their adventures set out in lands restored to the Duke of Ormonde, and were required in Cork, praying for a clause to continue their security.—No date—There is a second copy of this petition . . . p. 342.

Petition of Lewis Vincent Clannawagh, pleading innocence, and praying not to be prejudiced by the new bill.—No date . . . p. 344.

Petition of the Committee of Adventurers to be heard by council before the passing of the new bill.—Read 16 March 1665 . . . p. 343.

Particulars of the case of the preceding petition.—No date . . . p. 325.

Reasons by the Forty-nine Officers against being any part of their security—

1. The counties of Wicklow, Longford, Leitrim, and Down, part of these counties, are plantation counties, and are now planted with English, and the corporations are much decayed since the declaration.
2. The best land in these counties is hardly as good as that given to the adventurers and soldiers as forfeited.
3. The rule line, part of their security, is given to unimproved persons.

REASONS why the commissioners for executing the Act of Settlement desired, after 21 August last, until the obstructions be removed by a new bill—Read 20 November 1663

- The commissioners were obstructed to restore,
 - 1st, licentious prelaties and papists who took no honour in Conscience or Obed.
 - 2d, Those who took such detest.
 - 3d, Resurgences.
 - 4th, Such as have a right to articles of peace.
- The time for naming innocents and making reprisals is limited to 22d August ult.
- The time was occupied in restoring those of the first class, and only about one sixth of those of the second.
- If the commissioners had proceeded, the crimes of all innocents ordered must have been confined to advertisements and soldiers, contrary to the King's declaration.
- If they had proceeded to the third and fourth class, it would have been to no effect; for the time for reprisals being expired, no reprisals could be made to soldiers and adventurers as possessors.
- The commissioners applied for an Act to extend the time, instead of which the bill under consideration was presented.
- They could not have made separate bills before 22 August, because the innocents must first be restored, and had reprisals been previously made, such bills might have been evaded by the innocent prelaties; and if so, it is doubtful whether those reprisals could have a second reprisal.
- The sub-commissioner is appointed to survey the lands (which never obtain liberty to go on with this work . . . p. 1

Further obstructions stated by the commissioners.—Read 20 November 1662 . . . p. 5.

2. The power of restoring papists to houses, for an exemption.
3. Gives a power to dissolve the quiet-ten.
4. Expels the those against those who expelled the restoration, or dissolved the quiet-ten.
5. Expels the examination relative to libels, forgery, &c.
6. Takes away a stock part from adventurers and soldiers, contrary to the declaration . . . p. 3.
